

English Electric CANBERRA PR9

High altitude reconnaissance aircraft

The Canberra has been one of the world's outstanding photographic reconnaissance aircraft. The Royal Air Force identified that the Canberra jet bomber's height and speed performance made it ideal for development into a photo reconnaissance aircraft. It has been a major part of the RAF's intelligence gathering capability for many years. .

In Service:	1960 -2006
Maximum Speed:	876kmph	547mph
Engine:	Two Rolls-Royce Avon Mk. 206 turbo jets
Span:	20.66m	67ft 10in
Length:	20.36m	66ft 5in
Armament:	None	